WEDDING GUIDE

TIMELESS CLASSIC

THE RETURN OF THE MORNING COAT

For the ultimate in wedding formality, the morning coat is making a modern comeback.

SARTORIAL PERMANENCE: THE CASE FOR THE FOREVER SUIT

In a world of fleeting trends, the classic black tuxedo remains the ultimate anchor of a man's wardrobe. Sartorial Permanence is about moving beyond the "one-time wear" mindset and investing in a silhouette that will look as sharp in twenty years as it does on your wedding day.

THE MODERN ICON: THE BLACK NOTCH LAPEL SUIT

While the peak lapel screams formality, the Black Notch Lapel is the true workhorse of the sophisticated wardrobe. It is the definitive "multi-tool" of tailoring—offering a look that is understated enough for the boardroom, yet sharp enough to anchor a wedding party.

Functional Buttonholes - Working Cuffs: A hallmark of true custom tailoring.

THE FINAL FLOURISH: THE ART OF THE BOW TIE

A custom-tailored suit creates the silhouette, but the bow tie provides the character. Often seen as the hallmark of a true gentleman

THE COASTAL ESSENTIAL: NATURAL BROWN LINEN

If the black tuxedo is for the night, Brown Linen is the king of the Queensland day. Perfect for a hinterland wedding in Maleny or a sunset event on the Gold Coast, a brown linen suit offers a relaxed elegance that feels intentional, not accidental.

GREEN ENVY: FIND YOUR PERFECT WEDDING SHADE

Green is officially the wedding colour of the year, but not all greens are created equal.

Why settle for a flat color when you can wear a masterpiece? Bold patterns are the final frontier of wedding tailoring.

BEYOND THE SOLID: WHY BOLD PATTERNS ARE 2026'S BIGGEST GROOM TREND

For years, "wedding suit" meant a solid block of colour. But as we move into 2026, grooms are embracing the "Bold and Bespoke" movement.

IT'S NOT ALL ABOUT THE SUIT

A self-tie bow tie offers a charming, natural asymmetry that pre-tied versions can't replicate, serving as the ultimate "insider" detail for the groom who values authentic craftsmanship.

ONE OF A KIND

THE FINAL TOUCH - SIGNATURE STITCH

the monogram is a quiet rebellion—a declaration that this suit belongs to one person and one moment. For the groom, the monogram is the ultimate "Easter egg" of his wedding day attire.
